

FUND
BACKGROUND

The Reid Cottick Little Heroes Memorial Fund was established in 2006 in honor of Reid Joseph Marvin Cottick.

Reid was two years old when he was diagnosed with a cancerous brain tumor in 2005. Reid's family and caregivers were constantly amazed by Reid's strength and fighting spirit. Reid's short but courageous battle ended on September 11th, 2005. However, his strength and spirit live on in those who remember him and give to others who need help in their battle.

Since its inception, the fund has sponsored several programs within Winnipeg Children's Hospital. The fund is proud of every child they are able to help in any small way and is committed to providing these Little Heroes with every possible assistance.

Even Heroes Need Help

It is hard to imagine anything more devastating than a child being diagnosed with cancer.

Sadly, this is experienced by families in Manitoba every day.

A common thread in these cases is the strength and courage shown by the children. Their unbelievable fighting spirit helps their families manage through the many difficult times as they battle this punishing disease.

It is this strength that makes each and every childhood cancer patient the most amazing of heroes amongst us.

HOW DOES THE FUND HELP?

The fund supports childhood cancer patients and their families by providing assistance while they are in hospitals during treatment. These treatments are often lengthy and can be frequent. The support provided to the children and their families can help ease the burden of this battle and improve the outcome.

The fund provides scholarships to children who have been affected by childhood cancer. These children have fought fiercely for their future and that future deserves to be as bright as possible.

The fund supports medical research projects that show promise in the treatment and prevention of childhood cancer. This is a disease that no child should have to face and any avenues that can reduce the occurrence and impact should be aggressively pursued.

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

Your generous gift will support the programs the fund provides to help these little heroes in their battle. Every single dollar of your gift will be directed to the programs as all administrative costs are separately funded. You can feel confident that 100% of your gift will go directly toward helping these children and their families and contribute in a meaningful way to their success.
